

JAMS ASSOCIATE PROFILE

Burton W. King, Esq., ADR Consultant

Based in New York, Burton King is an Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Consultant at JAMS. He works with the JAMS global team and case manages international matters. We recently sat down with Burton to learn more about his role.

How long have you been with JAMS?

I started in July 2020.

Please provide an overview of your experience prior to joining JAMS?

I moved to New York from Nashville after completing my undergraduate studies in philosophy and business administration at the University of Tennessee. I worked for a large plaintiff's law firm for about five years, as a paralegal before law school and as an attorney after completing my studies at Brooklyn Law School, where I developed an interest in international law, international relations and dispute resolution. My law practice focused on pharmaceutical products liability litigation in state and federal courts, as well as advising investment managers on regulatory and compliance issues.

Please describe your role at JAMS.

Currently, I am a case manager for JAMS' international panelists. I collaborate with the global team on various projects related to practice development and information sharing. In the future, my role will also involve consulting to streamline and increase efficiencies in the administration of international arbitrations.

What can attorneys expect when they contact you about their cases?

Attorneys can expect warmth, responsiveness and, given my personal experience as a litigator, a deep understanding and knowledge about litigation and the challenges it presents.

What do you enjoy most about your job?

I enjoy working with incredibly smart, talented and driven individuals, as well as the constant opportunities to speak and work with such talented and accomplished neutrals.

What benefits can international attorneys expect when using JAMS to resolve their disputes?

International cases in particular present a lot of challenges that other cases do not. The manpower that JAMS brings to the table, as well as the commitment to client service and satisfaction, enables us to address those challenges quickly and efficiently, and to do so in a way that minimizes the burden on attorneys who already face significant challenges.

What are some of your hobbies?

I really enjoy cooking, fitness, stand-up comedy and live jazz shows.
